NASHVILLE, TENN.

SEMI-WEEKLY SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

CHAS. M. REACHMAN, Editor.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1885.

Five laborers were suffocated by foul gas while working in a sewer in Chicago Thursday.

Six persons were killed and 27 wounded by a boiler explosion at Brazil, Ind., last week.

In Newark, N. J., Annie McLoughlin, a 14-year-old girl, skated on roller skates until she dropped dead of paralysis of the heart.

Wm. Ray, an escaped inmate from Seneca Falls, N. Y., who claimed to have a divine commission to assassinate President Cleveland, was arrested at St. Louis Thursday.

The army register puts the aggregate strength of the organized militia of the several States at 87,674 and the number of unorganized men available for military duty at 6,797,005.

A snow slide buried the town of Alta, Utah, last Friday. Fifteen persons were buried under the avalanche. The loss of property was about $165,000. Two dead bodies had been recovered at last accounts.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 14.—La Patria this morning vouches for the truth of the phenomenon of a woman of this city giving birth to seven children in one day. All died, but the mother lives.

Miss Eva Mackey, the young American heiress, whose portrait recently appeared in this paper, was married at Paris, France, last Wednesday to Prince Colonna, of Italy. The bride is worth $100,000,000 in cool cash.

Capt. Theodore C. Tracie, a well-known journalist, has purchased the Louisville Sunday Argus and will change it to an eight page paper next Sunday and make substantial improvements in its get-up. Capt. Tracie will be the editor himself and will undertake to put the Argus in a special file.

Gov. Knott has declined to interfere in the case of Wm. Neal and he will be hanged at Grayson, Feb. 27. Five juries have found Neal guilty, although the evidence against him is wholly circumstantial. He is the last of the Ashland murderers.

Wilbur Peters and Miss Laura Chester were engaged to be married at Wooster, Ohio, but the girl broke off the engagement in a lover's quarrel. Last Tuesday night, the time which had been set for the wedding, as Miss Chester was leaving a skating rink with another young man, Peters stepped up and fatally shot her and then blew out his own brains.

The editor of the Breckenridge News is evidently not in love with Gen. "Sarah Gordy" Williams, judging from the following:

"We have it from the best authority that Gen. Williams intends to enter the field once more for the gubernatorial stakes. It really seems that nothing but death will permanently quell the arrogant and pestilent old demagogue, who has already been honored far beyond his deserts."

Miss Cleveland, sister of the President-elect, who will be mistress of the White House in a few days, is thus described:

"She is a lady of distinguished appearance, of high culture and intelligence, dignity and perfect self poise. She will preside over the White House superbly. She is a strong and interesting woman. She has fair hair, which is soft, short and curly, and nice, poetical blue eyes. She possesses a distinct knowledge of the fine arts, and she illuminates her conversation with a refined and vivacious play of features. I am sure she is the sort of a woman one would like to have for a friend."

The American Machinist publishes letters from 91 new members of the next House of Representatives, placing themselves on record on the tariff question. The New York Sun copies the list and calls attention to the fact that 79 of the 91 declare for a protective tariff, and that these added to the 88 protectionists re-elected give 167 or a majority of 9 against tariff reform, conceding all of the non-committal members to be in favor of a reduction of the tariff. It is to be hoped that this conclusion is erroneous and will be so found when the next House is organized. The number given embraces all the Republican members and only a small minority of the Democrats.

Near Springfield, Illinois, last week Miss Mary Cox, a well-known young lady, died from an over-dose of morphine administered through mistake. The night following her burial persistent howling of dogs at her grave attracted attention. The next day the grave was opened, and to the horror of all it was found that the girl had been buried alive. The fluing was torn from the sides of the casket, and the pillow was in shreds. The poor girl had literally stripped the clothing from her body. Her hands and arms were torn and bleeding. Her lips were bitten through, and handfuls of hair were torn from her head. She had come to life and had evidently made a fearful struggle to escape. The awful affair fills the community with horror.

HORRIBLE!

ANOTHER ASYLUM BURNED WITH FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE.

Over Twenty Bodies Recovered and Probably as Many More in the Ruins.

SIX HUNDRED MANIACS TURNED HALF-CLAD INTO THE FREEZING STREETS.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 13.—That portion of the Philadelphia Asylum Hospital set apart for the insane was burned to the ground last night. From twenty-five to forty insane patients, most of them in the violent department, perished in the flames. There were 684 insane persons in the building, many of whom were rescued almost suffocated by the smoke. The names of the dead who have been identified are: James Burke, Thomas Jones, John Koehler, John Herriges, Franklin Dehon, John Lyden, Charles Scott (colored), Edward Murphy, Charles Nottenberger, Michael Rnth, Robert Cummings, John Dinger, James McCoy, Phillip Newberger, Charles O'Brien, Thos. Rusk, Jacob Glassman and Francis Smith.

Two charred bodies are in the dead house unidentified.

The dead house presents an awful appearance. Staged in rows upon the floor and on rude benches are the remains of the unfortunate inmates. Some are charred beyond recognition, while others are in a well preserved state, having evidently died of suffocation.

Many more inmates of the insane department, who have not yet been found, are supposed to be covered in the burning ruins. The number of the dead may amount to thirty or forty.

Coroner Powers states that the inquest into the disaster will be held on Tuesday or Wednesday next. A rigid investigation will be made, and a special jury summoned to inquire into all the phases of the horrible calamity. Arrangements have been made with the authorities of the house of correction of this city, and the State insane hospitals to give shelter to the more than 600 patients who were inmates of the burned building.

When the fire broke out Wm. Strange, John Hayes, Thos. Kane and Joseph Schoder were the keepers on duty. Mrs. Umstead, the housekeeper, was in the women's department making her nightly round. Joseph Nudane, a weak minded inmate, was coming down stairs when he saw the smoke. He yelled "fire," and ran through the corridors cutting on the inmates to save themselves. Hayes, Strange, Kane, Schoder and Nudane set about liberating the insane people. Help came from the half-hundred able bodied paupers who act as night firemen in the engine house. On the third floor, near where the fire started, the rescuers were driven back by the intense heat and smoke. In the violent ward, where forty-five inmates were confined, it is feared that all were lost.

Commercial: In the nine years during which the people of Muhlenberg county have resisted the payment of their railroad debt the accumulation of interest has doubled the debt, which now amounts to two-thirds of the taxable value of the county. After a few more years of such management all the property in Muhlenberg cannot be sold for enough to free the county of debt. The Owensboro Messenger thus describes the county's condition: "The bridges are down, the culverts washed out, the roads are horrible, the county officers have no salaries, property has depreciated, men of capital have moved away, others who have been lured to locate there on account of the natural advantages of the county have been deterred from doing so, and the business and social affairs of the community are almost in chaos." The Muhlenberg county bonds are again a subject of litigation and the result probably will be to teach the people that paying debts is cheaper than repudiation, but that the avoidance of public debts is best of all.

Poor Mr. Tilden, trembling with palsy and ready for the grave, has suddenly become a tower of strength for Democracy—their cloud by day, and their pillar of fire by night. With a touch from his feeble fingers a dozen Cabinet pyramids are overthrown. His dying whisper, breathed into the ear of the President-elect, changes the whole policy of the incoming administration. No important move is made upon the political chess-board without his advice, and yet four years ago he was sent to the rear by his party with characteristic ingratitude. Mr. Tilden is too old a politician not to improve this opportunity. The cards are coming his way at last, and he has a great many scores to settle.—Commercial.

Bad Egbert died at Frankfort Monday, from stabs received at the hands of Tom Dawson, col., three weeks before.

The report of the Commissioners of the Kentucky Institution for the education and training of Feeble-minded Children for the year ending October 1, 1884, shows that the number of children in the institution at that date was 154. During the year five had died and five were dismissed. The industrial departments are self-sustaining. Health of children at date of report good. The financial condition of the institution is given: Receipts.....$29,634.27 Disbursements.....29,631.03 Balance.....$ 3.24

KENTUCKY KNOWLEDGE

Harrodsburg is to have a skating rink.

A $20,000 college is to be established at Mayfield.

The Semi-Weekly Union Local grows better each issue.

A "faith cure" hospital has been established at Richmond.

J. W. Bell, of Shelbyville, has gone to Holland to import a lot of Holstein cattle.

In Nelson county a farmer named Hardin Hill shot and killed his wife on account of jealousy.

The tobacco barn of J. P. China, near Harrodsburg, was burned by an incendiary one night last week.

Wm. M. Smith's residence at Mayfield was destroyed by fire last week. Loss $1,000; insurance $2,500.

Mrs. Wm. Grinstead, of Somerset, caught her dress on fire from an open fire-place and was fatally burned.

Mr. Lew B. Brown, a reporter of the Louisville Times, was married Wednesday to Miss Emma Struby.

Jesse Eastwood, of Boyd county, has just been paid a back pension of $10,452.30 and given an order for $72 a month during his life.

At Mt. Sterling, Gertrude Evans, a little daughter of Chas. Evans, caught her clothes on fire and was perhaps fatally burned.

John Graham, the English athlete, defeated Duncan C. Ross in a wrestling match in Louisville last week, for $200 a side and the door receipts.

Mrs. Elijah Burdine, aged 35, was burned to death in Jessamine county. She caught her clothing on the fire while standing near an open fire-place.

At a dance near Somerset, A. J. Hansforth shot and fatally wounded Jas. Mulany, who was just out of the penitentiary, having served a term for murder. Hansforth pleads self-defense.

The wife and child of Wm. Dudgeon, a young Hart county farmer, died last Wednesday and the young man deliberately snicided by cutting his throat. The three bodies were buried in one coffin.

Richmond is excited over a matrimonial sensation. Miss Lizzie Chevalier was announced to wed Rev. H. T. Daniels on Thursday. The expected groom had engaged two ministers to officiate and had bought two tickets to New Orleans, but the lady went back on him and the day she was to have married Rev. Daniels, she wedded Daniel Harber, a young farmer, instead.

Some enterprising people of Richmond, Ky., are taking steps to import a number of domestic laborers from England to serve as cooks, house servants, etc. Lexington ladies have imported English girls at a cost of $30 each, to whom they pay $5 per month. The price of the passage is being deducted from the wages of the first year. In neatness of person, willingness to work and devotion to duty these English domestics are said to be unsurpassed.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Wickliffe Journal: A singular freak of nature is shown in the case of Polly George, a lady well known to many citizens, who lives two miles from Milburn in this county. Mrs. G. is 76 years old, the mother and the grandmother of a large family in the county. During her life she has cut and shed her teeth twice, and now has commenced to cut the third set, having cut four teeth within the past month—two above and two below. She did also, a little over a year ago, shed her hair, which was white with age, and it is now replaced by a suit of black hair with an occasional silver thread only.

In certain counties in Eastern Kentucky scores of girls are said to marry at the age of twelve or thirteen years, and by the time they should first be thinking of sweethearts are often mothers of large families. A recent traveler who went through much of the country on foot says that men, too, as soon as they can raise cash enough to put a cabin and buy stuff enough to make a living on if possible, are ready to assume the duties, trials and cares of married life, and many of them find wives before their beard begins to sprout, or before they know where the money is to come from to buy food for the wedding feast.

Col. Thomas Buford, brother of Gen. Abe Buford, and the slayer of Judge Elliott, of the Court of Appeals, died Friday morning at the Anchorage insane asylum, after a long illness of chronic disease. It will be remembered that Buford shot and killed Judge Elliott for rendering an adverse decision against Buford's sister in a case involving considerable property. After a most sensational trial, that has become celebrated, Buford was adjudged a lunatic and sent to the asylum, from which he escaped, going across the river to Indiana, where he lived about a year, hunting and fishing, the asylum officials being unable, under the law, to bring him back to Kentucky. Without friends or money, Buford grew sick, and finally was forced by want to go back to the asylum, where he remained until his death. It is only six years since he killed Judge Elliott, but in that time Buford saw his family lose all their property, and the trouble of his brother was undoubtedly the cause of the suicide of the noted turnman, Gen. Abe Buford, who killed himself last summer.

The Henderson Reporter says Zeno Young and C. C. Glens, of Madhaville, are talking of starting a new paper in that town soon.

SOCIALITIES.

Mr. T. T. McCamy, of Clarksville, was in the city Sunday.

Mr. W. C. Wilson, of Princeton, was in the city Saturday.

Mr. John Hall, of the Madisonville Gleaser, took in Warde last week.

Mr. G. D. Read left for Nashville this morning on a "business" trip.

Mr. W. D. Elliott, of Oak Grove, came in to hear Warde last week.

Mr. Ed. F. Hendley, of Nashville, was in the city last week.

Mr. C. D. Eades is visiting friends and relatives in Greenville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. C. Latham, Jr., of New York City, are visiting Mr. Jno. C. Latham's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Porter, of Pembroke, attended the theatre Friday evening.

Messrs. W. H. Adams, J. M. Adams and Chas. E. Sibley left Saturday for a visit to New Orleans.

Mr. S. O. Hume, formerly of Lafayette, now of Seelye, Ky., was in the city last week on business.

Mr. S. G. Henry, of Kenton county, left for his home yesterday after a week's visit to friends here.

Mrs. Robt. Downer, of Todd county, was in the city Saturday, the guest of her brother, Prof. Aaron Williams.

Cards are out announcing the marriage, Feb. 25, of Mr. Harry C. Buckner and Miss Elizabeth Monroe, in the Longview neighborhood.

Miss Jennie Slaughter left yesterday for her home in Louisville, after a pleasant visit to her sister, Mrs. J. M. Frankel.

Miss Sara C. Green, of Nashville, Tenn., left Sunday for her home, after an extended visit to the family of Mr. Jos. Fry.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Armstrong and Miss Ella Shinnett, of Elkton, visited Mr. A. W. Pyle's family last week, and returned home yesterday.

MARRIED.

Mr. Urey Woodson, one of the editors of the Owensboro Messenger, was married last Tuesday to Miss Bettie Ford, the beautiful and intellectual daughter of Capt. S. H. Ford, of that city. The marriage was very quiet, only a few immediate friends and relatives being present. They were attended by Mr. Arthur Ford and Miss Lavin Ford, and Dr. Sam Watkins and Miss Susie Woodson. Dr. J. B. Solomon, of the Baptist church, pronounced the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Woodson left for New Orleans. Mr. Woodson is one of the most deserving and successful young men of the fraternity in Kentucky and we heartily congratulate him upon scoring this his latest and greatest triumph, and escaping from the horrible fate of an old bachelor. His bride is a sweet and lovable young lady with beauty enough to make up for Urey's deficiencies in personal pulchritude. We bestow our blessing upon the happy couple. May they realize the fullest fruition of their fondest hopes.

Jno. T. Raymond.

This celebrated comedian will appear Thursday evening the 19th, in his great specialty "For Congress," one of the most laughable pieces on the stage. Tickets at the usual place.

Messrs. Holland & Rodgers have on exhibition at their confectionery, a novel and unique church, made entirely of candy, which is complete in all of its parts, and which was made at their store by Mr. Robinson, their baker. It must be seen to be properly appreciated.

Mr. J. M. Tandy will sell at public auction, next Saturday, at his residence, on Jessup's Avenue, all of his household and kitchen furniture, two fine milk cows, and some fine and fashionably bred stock. Sale will commence at 10 o'clock.

Tobacco Sales.

Tobacco sales by Hancock, Fraser & Ragsdale, Feb. 11, 1885, of 76 hids. as follows:
 3 hids. fine tobacco from—$14 00 to 13 50.
 48 hids. good to medium leaf from—$11 00 to 8 00.
 18 hids. common leaf and lugs from—$7 25 to 6 00.
 9 hids. common lugs from—$5 90 to 5 20.

We sold one hhd. wrapper for W. H. Weir & Bro., of Hanson Station, Ky., at $14 00. Two hids. wrapper for Hewitt & Livingston, of Hanson, Ky., at $14 and 13 50.

Our market firm on all grades of tobacco, in good order, and tobacco not in good condition was neglected.

The Tolliver gang in Rowan county have warned Ben and Wm. Martin, the witnesses to the murder of John Martin, to leave the county at once or be killed. The Martins preferred to leave, and the Tollivers will probably go unpunished.

HERE AND THERE.

Howe's time is the city standard.

Sacks for putting up meat for sale at this office, cheap.

Metcalf, Graham & Co. will have a branch house at Pembroke for delivery of the National-Fertilizer.

The wife of Mr. John Clark, died Friday at their home a few miles south of the city. She leaves but one child, a child twelve years old.

There will be an ordination of deacons in the upper room of the Baptist church to-morrow evening. Rev. Mr. Riley, of Bowling Green, will be present and assist the pastor.

Dr. J. P. Cullen, of Dawson, was in the city Saturday. He is now busily engaged in developing the celebrated Salts well, at Dawson, the product of which is said to be equal to the Crab Orchard Salts.

Mrs. Gilliland, widow of John Gilliland, deceased, died last Saturday at the residence of Alex. Gilliland, in the Mt. Zoar neighborhood, aged about 60 years. She leaves a family of grown children.

Valentine's day was a busy day in the city, in fact the best day for business men in several weeks. A good number of country people were in the city and the streets looked lively and business like once more. A few more such days would be gladly welcomed by the merchants.

In another column will be found a new and well-written letter from a young lady now visiting the New Orleans Exposition. The letter was a private one, not designed for publication, but we are permitted to publish it by the recipient. It will be found very entertaining and instructive.

On Feb. 8th, Rev. J. N. Prestidge, pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, preached a sermon that contained some very pertinent local applications. So many favorable comments were made upon the discourse that we asked and obtained permission to publish it. It will be found elsewhere in this issue and we commend it to all of our readers, church-members especially, as worthy of a careful perusal.

Miss Mittens Willett, leading lady of the Fred'k Warde Co., is a native of Kentucky, whose mother, (Miss Flora Wilkerson) was educated at Prof. Rust's school, at Lafayette, this county. As an actress, Miss Willett is far above the mediocre, and carries with her a reserve force that promises much for the future. Her characterizations were easy and graceful and marked by an artistic finish, at once pleasing and attractive. Her elocution is natural and unaffected; her stage deportment elegant. Miss Willett is an actress of high merit and first-class ability.

Last Friday evening a banquet was given at the Phoenix Hotel, by some of the members of the K. of P. Lodge, in honor of Mr. Frederick Warde. Immediately after the play of "Damon and Pythias" at the Opera House, about twenty gentlemen accompanied by their wives and family friends, repaired to the parlor of the hotel, and awaited the arrival of the honored guest. When he arrived he was accompanied by Mr. Kellard, who played the part of Pythias, and Mr. Hudson, the manager, and they were introduced to the ladies and gentlemen, after which half an hour was passed in social conversation. Supper was then announced and all at once proceeded to the dining room, where Mr. W. T. Cooper, the proprietor, had prepared as fine a supper as could have been spread on such short notice. After supper the guests spent only a short time in the parlor, and after taking leave of Mr. Warde, went to their homes as favorably impressed with him off the stage as on. Messrs. Kellard and Hudson added much to the pleasure of the evening.

The engagement of Frederick Warde last week served to add much to Mr. Warde's popularity in this city. On Friday evening he appeared in the great character of Damon, in "Damon and Pythias" and held his auditors spell-bound for three hours. The play affords fine scope for his remarkable powers and he portrayed the character of Damon in superb style. Pythias was played by Mr. Kellard, who reflected credit upon himself. In every act. On Saturday afternoon Mr. Warde appeared at the theatre as Shylock in the "Merchant of Venice." Competent critics pronounce his Shylock the best on the American stage. There was certainly very little room for improvement in his personation. Saturday evening he played "Brutus or the Fall of Tarquin, the Proud." Here too he sustained his high character as a tragedian, though the play is not as good as some others he presents. This performance was supplemented by "Katharina and Petruchio," a short comedy from Shakespeare's "Taming of a Shrew." Mr. Warde took the comedian's part in this and kept the audience convulsed for forty minutes. Miss Willett, the leading lady, played Katharina in a manner that won for her much applause. She is an actress of talent and won the good opinion of the audience from her first appearance. Large and fashionable audiences greeted Mr. Warde at each performance.

HOTEL DE LONG.

Twenty-one Guests now Sojourning in this popular Hostelry.

A GLANCE AT THE REGISTER.

Situated upon the eastern bank of Little River, immediately in the rear of the public square, is the boarding house of Mr. Aquilla B. Long, sometimes called the county jail. It is so popular a house that guests have been known to remain within its hospitable walls for weeks and even months without even going out to attend a circus or torchlight procession. A present every suite of rooms in the establishment is occupied and a number of guests are temporarily absent, by special arrangements made with their friends. One feature of the hotel is that it entertains both white and colored guests. At present the register shows the following name:

WHITE.

Luther C. Railford, charged with murder.
 Gran. Gibson, shooting to kill.
 S. T. Walker, carrying concealed weapons.
 Chas. F. Fleming, on peace bond.

COLORED.

John Lee, indicted for murder.
 Jordan Taylor, " "
 Pig Green, held for robbery.
 Granville Moore, " "
 Bryant Royster, for horse stealing.
 Bryant Morrison, stealing pistol.
 Itillary High, carrying concealed weapon.

Mose Woolbridge, obtaining money falsely.

Porter Phelps, hog stealing.
 Andrew Ford, " "
 Aaron Adams, " "
 Chas. Green, chicken " "
 Susan Taylor, house breaking.
 Harry Wallace, wheat stealing.
 Peter Caldwell, " "
 Peter Patterson, " "
 Flom McNeelys, " "

The jailer's books also show the following persons out on bail bonds:

WHITE.

Nick Gibson, charged with murder.
 M. G. Railford, " "
 Jesse Pyle, shooting with intent to kill.
 Bill Hamby, manslaughter.

COLORED.

Wiley Johnson, manslaughter.
 Cane Ramey, " "
 Paul Jones, charged with stealing wheat.
 Jim West, charged with stealing wheat.

The last two were released on bond Saturday. Mr. Long had 23 persons before their release, the largest number ever confined in jail at one time. He now has 21 in the cells and 8 out on bond. Christian will send a big delegation to Frankfort next month.

Poached on His Pals.

Harry Wallace, col., who was brought back from Kansas last week and jailed for wheat-stealing, made a confession Thursday and implicated four or five other negroes. Sheriff Heyd went to the Newstead neighborhood and brought in 5 the same day. The men arrested were Flom McNeelys, Peter Caldwell, Peter Patterson, Paul Jones and Jim West. Wallace claimed that these with West Dade and Geo. Crenshaw helped to haul off 200 bushels of Dr. Clardy's wheat and about 100 of Mr. J. A. Coleman's, which they sold and divided the profits. Dade and Crenshaw could not be found. The others waived examination Saturday and went to jail and Jones and West subsequently gave bond and were released. Some of the men have heretofore borne good characters and the charges against them may not be proven, but several of them will undoubtedly accompany Wallace to the penitentiary.

GARRETTSBURG, KY.

February 11, 1885.
 ED. SOUTH KENTUCKIAN:
 As my recent comments on the neglect of duty of the mail contractor on this route, have aroused the honorable gentleman's ire and brought upon my head the withering sarcasm of his offended "Highness," you will please allow me a few words in defense of my position. Living three miles from Garretttsburg I seldom go to the office for my mail, therefore cannot speak as to the exact number of times that the mail has failed to come during the winter; however, I generally sent to the office, almost every day and have, at various times, received the information that no mail came; hence my assertion that "We are never confident of getting any mail at all." Mr. Pace asserts that never, since Nov. 1st, has Garretttsburg missed two mails in succession. For proof of the fact, that on one occasion, no mail was received at this office from Friday until the following Tuesday, I have the testimony of the deputy post-master at this place, and of another gentleman whose word may be relied upon. If I was mistaken in believing that no mail came from the 16th to the 20th ult., I will gladly apologize for the injustice done to Mr. Pace and claim excuse on the ground that the error lay, not in myself, but in my information. However, granting Mr. Pace to be right in this case, there is still sufficient proof of the fact that he is exempt from the charge of "dereliction of duty." Furthermore, the charge is implied against me of attempting to be witty in my last communication, which accusation I emphatically repudiate. Such an attempt would be vain for even a "Pronter" could not extract wit from so dull and prosy a subject as W. B. Pace and his mail contract. Since Mr. Pace does not know whether "Camille" is a "boy or woman" I would inform him that I belong to the masculine gender and my name is W. G. Fox, at Mr. Pace's service.

M. L. Young, one of the best barbers in this city visits Pembroke every Wednesday and Saturday, and if the people in that neighborhood want to be properly treated, just call on him.

Neither mental nor physical labor can be accomplished satisfactorily unless the system is in order. When you feel tired, languid, wearied without exertion, the mind slow to act, and requiring great mental effort, you can rest assured that your liver is not acting properly, and that nature requires assistance to help throw off impurities. There is no remedy that will accomplish this so mildly and yet effectually as Prickly Ash Bitters. A trial will satisfy you of its merits.

For 18 years, we have tried in our humble way to serve the shaving public, and are still in the ring, with as good tools of barbers as can be had, and all we ask is to give us a trial; hair cutting, shaving, dyeing, and shampooing done in the best style. Our shop may be found on Russellville St., opposite Schmitt's confectionery. First floor.
